

The Master Class Are Feeling Fine

Richard Brazier

Dan Emmett

Voice

mf

The mas - ter class are feel - ing fine, As they

Piano

mf

mp

3

gloat with joy o'er the long bread line, For they like to see the 5

work - ers starve. And if you mur-mur a - loud for bread They send the sol-diers to feed you lead. They do; it's true; and you know it too. What care they for your wom-en's cry, their tears or sigh, Or if from hun-ger your child-ren die, For lives are cheap, and there's more to buy?

7

9

12

14

All they want is gold and the blood of the work-ers. All they want is 17

gold and the blood of the work - ers. These 19

days the mas-ters are filled with joy, For la - bor's pow'r is cheap to buy. So man-y men are look - ing for a job. They work you all the hours of the day And 24

21

give you as low as pos - si - ble pay, While you look on and not a word to say. The boss has got us up a tree, you and me, For 29

26

we're not or - gan-ized, you see; That's why we live in sla - ver - y. But the boss has got a strong in - dus - trial u - nion. But the boss has got a strong in - dus - trial u - nion. Oh work-ing folk it is a shame, But for

31

34

mf

mf mp

37

these con - di - tions you are to blame. Be game; stick to - geth-er; or - gan-

39

ize; get wise; Do the same as your mas - ters do:

41

Or - gan - ize in a u - nion true. Then the boss will toil with a num - ber two. Yes, the boss will work, and work hard, too, he will, you bet, For he worked us hard and we can't for - get; So, we'll

43

45

47

make him dig till his brow does sweat, When you or - gan-ize in

49

the In - dus - trial Work-ers, When you or - gan-ize in the In - dus - trial Work-ers.

mf

3

52

55