twad-dle and cant? Think on the wrongs ye bear; Think on the rags ye wear;

15

Think on the in - sults en - dur'd from your birth; Toil - ing in snow and rain,

18

Rear - ing up heaps of grain, All for the ty - rants who grind you to earth.

21

Your brains are as keen as the 24

brains of your mas-ters, In swift-ness and strength ye sur - pass them by far; Ye've

27

brave hearts to teach you to laugh at dis - as - ters; Ye vast - ly out - num - ber your 30

ty - rants in war. Why then like cow-wards stand, Us - ing not brain or hand, 35

Thank - ful like dogs when they throw you a bone? What right have they to take

38

Things that ye toil to make? Know ye not, work-ers, that all is your own?

41

Rise in your might, work - ers,

44

bear it no long - er, As - sem - ble in mass - es through - out the whole land;

47

Show these in - cap - a - bles who are the strong - er When work-ers and i - dlers con - front - ed shall stand. Thro' Cas - tle, Court and Hall, 53

50

O - ver their a - cres all, On - wards we'll press like the 56

waves of the sea Claim - ing the wealth we've made, End - ing the spoil - ers trade;

59

La - bor shall tri - umph and Eng - land be free.
